

Just Write!

Faculty Summer Writing Retreats

Looking to advance your writing projects this summer?

Join us for two 2-day writing retreats this June and July held in the NEXUS space.

Open and free for all U faculty to work on books, articles, grants, other proposals, etc.!
Hosted by the College of Humanities and the College of Social and Behavioral Science.

These retreats offer a chance for quiet reflection and writing, advice from grant writers and researchers (ADRs), and opportunities to form writing partnerships.

A light breakfast, refreshments, and tea/coffee will be provided. Plus, enjoy lunch and an engaging conversation with the group each day.

Bring your project to one or both retreats and make the most of your summer writing!
