

Back by Popular Demand! Write Winning NIH Grant Proposals

The Clinical and Translational Science Institute is pleased to again offer this widely acclaimed 1-day seminar, led by Dr. John Robertson, PhD. This highly rated seminar is designed to provide an overview of the entire process of writing an NIH proposal, focused on the R01. The seminar complements other longer grant writing courses and workshops by either providing you with a foundation before you embark on those, or cementing your knowledge after. We are holding the seminar in November, to help prepare you for the new streamlined NIH review process that goes into effect for applications due on or after January 25, 2025.

Grant Writers' Seminars & Workshops was founded by academicians, for academicians to help researchers obtain formal training in how to support their work with grant proposal writing.

This seminar comprehensively addresses both practical and conceptual aspects that are important to the proposal-writing process. Emphasis is given to how to write with a linear progression of logic, which leads reviewers through their applications. In addition to the new streamlined review process, the seminar will also focus on idea development, identification of the most appropriate granting agency, how to write for reviewers, and tips and strategies that are of proven value in presenting an applicant's case to reviewers.

Monday, November 4th,
2024

8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

MST

In-person

Cleone Peterson Eccles

Alumni House

155 South Central Campus
Drive

Salt Lake City, UT 84112

Register Here

$300 registration fee to offset costs will require activity or project chartfield for completion

Questions should be directed to Lyalya Sultanova

Dr. John Robertson, PhD

Sponsored by:

UTAH CTSI
CLINICAL & TRANSLATIONAL
SCIENCE INSTITUTE

Office of Associate Vice President of Research

HEALTH
UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

